HEAVY PENALTIES FOR LIQUOR VIOLATORS

Circuit Court Takes Up Clean-up Work Right Where Federal Court Left Off

The May term of the Madison circuit court which followed the week right after the federal court session, seems to be taking up prosecution and penalties for violations of the liquor law right where Uncle Sam's tribunal left off. Circuit Judge W. R. Shackelford has made a widely known record for his vigorous charges to grand juries on the liquor question and his court has been getting results.

Circuit court got down to business Wednesday after clearing up the Garrett and Rucker cases Monday. Mort Harris was fined $60 and given 20 days for unlawful sale of liquor. An appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals.

An indictment was returned against Jesse Cain charging him with malicious cutting in connection with the wounding of Offie Brown at a carnival about two weeks ago. Brown is foreman of a telephone construction crew and was dangerously injured for several days, but finally recovered. Cain's bond was placed at $1,000 which he had not given Thursday morning.

On a charge of unlawful sale of liquor, George Hopper was fined $200 and given 60 days in jail. On a charge of driving an automobile while drunk, agreed judgment of $25 was entered against Hopper. This case came up from police court on appeal.

Polly Azbill was adjudged not guilty on a statutory charge. James McFarland, charged with operating a moonshine still was given a fine of $250 and six months in jail.

Bertie Gentry was cleared of a liquor selling charge.

Ras McNally failed to answer when his name was called and was tried in his absence and fined $50 and given 20 days on a concealed weapon charge. He was also disfranchised from voting. He was tried on a charge of disturbing religious worship and fined $50. His bond of $200 in each case, with Embury Parker as surety, was declared forfeited.

McKinley Parker was fined $50 on a charge of disturbing religious worship.

William White, charged with operating a moonshine still, was fined $500 and given six months in jail.

Reid Lakesm was declared not guilty on a charge of disturbing religious worship.

Several local poolroom proprietors were fined for permitting minors to play in their houses. Ed Ridder was fined $100 and his bond of $200 with W. S. Hamilton forfeited when he failed to answer. Fines of $100 were also assessed against Clay Stone, George Martin, while George Goodloe and Goodloe & Abrams were acquitted on similar charges.

Floyd Webb was acquitted of carrying deadly concealed weapon.

Charles Fife, colored, was acquitted of a petit larceny charge.

Five indictments have so far been returned by the grand jury. Two were for carrying deadly weapon concealed; one for malicious cutting, chicken stealing and detaining a female against her will. The grand jury adjourned until Friday.

Daugherty Denies Charges

Washington, May 4—Attorney General Daugherty in a formal statement today, referring to the charges against him in the Senate made by Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, in connection with the release from the Atlanta prison of Charles W. Morris in 1912, declared "the real people behind this movement, aside from partisans interested, have not yet shown their hands or their heads." He declared his intention, "if there is occasion for it," to publish letters written several years ago by President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham. He said the letters "conclusively answer all charges."

Profit In Pool Selling

(By Associated Press)
Smithland, Ky., May 4—Livingston county farmers have found co-operative shipping a good means whereby they can increase their profits, according to County Agent L. C. Pace. They recently shipped a car load of poultry at a profit of $750 above what they could have received locally.

$9,000,000 MORE FOR WEED POOL MEMBERS

Heavy Distribution of Sale Proceeds To Be Made To Farmers On May 20th

Growers of tobacco in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio, who are members of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, will receive May 20 another payment of approximately $9,000,000 on their crops which they delivered to receiving plants of the association, the second payment to be the same amount as the first, according to the decision of the board of directors of the association, in session at the offices in Lexington Wednesday.

The manner of the delivery of the checks to the growers is left to the director of each district, to whom all the checks for growers in his district will be sent.

It is expected to make Saturday, May 20, a day of jollification in the district, with speeches at public meetings in most cases, followed by the delivery of the checks to the growers.

These details however, are left to the discretion of the director in each district and no uniform method of delivery has yet been agreed upon. Each director will announce to the county papers the time and method of distribution to be followed in his district.

After thorough discussion of the outlook, with a review of sales already made and some others in immediate prospect, the directors were told that they could assure their constituents that those who had joined the association would receive more money per pound for their tobacco than those who refused to join, besides paying expenses and the payments on the warehouses which are to be decided to the association by June 15.

It is expected that the drive for new members will be started on the day of the second distribution and kept up for the following week, with the idea of signing up the organization part of the burley district 100 per cent strong. Clifton Rodes reported favorable results in West Virginia, and Tennessee also is to be visited.

Maternity Law Unconstitutional

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., May 4—The Shepard-Towner act for federal and state co-operation in promoting maternity and infancy welfare and hygiene, was declared unconstitutional in an opinion given the legislature today by State Attorney General Allen. He said Congress exceeded its authority and encroached on the state police powers.

Co-operative Lamb

Marketing In Owen

(By Associated Press)
Owenton, Ky., May 4—Plans for a co-operative livestock marketing association are going forward rapidly among Owen county farmers. County Agent J. P. Ricketts says. Farmers have already signed more than 2,000 lambs which will be marketed through the association when it is completed.

Two Big Days At Lexington

Lexington, Ky., May 4—Seventy debaters and orators from high schools in all parts of the state will begin here today the final annual debating and oratorical contest held by the University of Kentucky. For the past several weeks elimination contests have been in progress throughout the state.

On Friday track and field athletes from fifty high schools will arrive for the annual interscholastic track and field meet.

The debating tournament will be the first to get under way. Six contests will start at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. They will be held in private in order that no team that happens to be idle may listen and gather points to be used when they meet the winners.

The second preliminaries of the debating contest will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon and the semi-finals at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning. The finale, open to the public, will be held Friday night.

The oratorical championship of the state will be decided tonight. The contestants will meet in the University chapel at 7:30 and all will be heard and the decision rendered by the judges.

The Lexington high school debating team which last year won the first leg of the Lexington Leader cup, presented by Harry Giovannoli editor of that newspaper, will attempt to win the second leg of the cup this year. Desha Breckinridge, editor of Lexington Herald, has offered a silver cup for the debaters this year.

In addition to the other contests, the University this year is conducting an essay contest. Several thousand high school pupils have entered essays. The winner will be announced by Prof. L. L. Dantzer head of the Department of English, of the University, on Friday night.

Many of the essays have been written on the subject of education in Kentucky, which is one of the three subjects selected for treatment by the essayists. The other questions are "Why I wish to go to College," and "John Fox, Jr."

RED MEN WANT STATE GRAND COUNCIL

Floating Canoe tribe of Red Men of Richmond want to entertain the Grand Council of the state here next year and the members are going to make a hard fight at the council at Frankfort next week, May 9, 10 and 11 to obtain it. The local tribe were practically promised the grand council for next year when they withdrew and allowed Frankfort to have this year's meeting. However, Middleboro has gotten into the fight for the honor of entertaining the meeting next year and is evidently going to give Richmond a battle. A lot of scalps are expected to fly when the warriors of old Floating Canoe tribe get their point on and their tomahawks properly sharpened.

It is expected that the Richmond Chamber of Commerce will issue a formal invitation to the Grand Council to come to Richmond as the guest of the city, and a committee may be sent to Frankfort to co-operate with the delegates from Floating Canoe tribe in convincing the Grand Council that it is the logical time to come to Richmond.

MANAGER SCOTT HAS SPLENDID SHOWS

Manager C. D. Scott with his Greater Shows gave their initial performance in Richmond to a splendid crowd regardless of the inclement weather. Prof. Carlo and his splendid organization of musicians gave a beautiful concert in the band stand at 7 o'clock. It is far above the average carnival band, and each musician is an artist. The all-star minstrel show proved a treat to its many patrons, and all the other shows were clean, refined and moral. The merry-go-round is a thing of beauty, and taking it all in all the carnival is a good one and should be liberally patronized. Manager Scott as well as all others connected with the carnival, are fine fellows, and are making many friends here. They are showing on the Moberly lot at the corner of First and Water streets, and will stay here for the entire week.

BONUS PLANS TO GO TO HARDING

(By Associated Press)

Washington May 4—Chairman McCumber, of the Senate Finance Committee, was formally authorized by a majority of that committee, to present his soldiers' bonus plan with bank loan provision to President Harding as a committee plan. Senator Smoot also informed the committee he would present his 20-year endowment life insurance plan, with loan feature, to the President.

Casts for Scotti Opera

The famous opera La Boheme by Giacomo Puccini, will be the offering of the Scotti Grand Opera Company for the matinee instead of Carmen as first announced. This change was necessitated in order that certain singers might have a rest between appearances.

With the beautiful opera La Boheme the well known cast will be: Orville Harrold, Louis D'Angelo, Paolo Ananias, Marie Sundelius, Sante Mandelli, Alfredo Gandolfi, Italo Picchi, Mary Mellish, Carlo Marino.

In the presentation of L'Oracolo and Pagliacci for the evening performance the cast will be Antonio Scotti, Italo Picchi, Louie D'Angelo, Armand Toketyan, Clara Burns, Francesca Peralta, Henrietta Wakefield, Giordana Paltrinieri.

The cast for Pagliacci will be Anna Roselle, Emanuel Salazar, Renato Zanelli, Giordana Paltrinieri, Alfredo Gandolfi.

Gennaro Papi will conduct the three operas.

Tickets are on sale at the Lexington College of Music. Season tickets are sold for the two performances at a reduction in price—a special price is also made to students and teachers for the matinee when tickets are purchased in blocks of 20 or more.

MRS. IRVINE'S WILL VOID IN MISSOURI

So No Income From Kansas City Property Will Be Available For Hospital Maintenance

Word has reached Richmond that the much discussed and litigated will of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Irvine, who died here about two years ago at the age of 91, has been declared void in Missouri by the courts in Missouri because not executed according to Missouri laws. It seems that the bulk of the property attempted to be disposed of by this will consists of Kansas City, Missouri, real estate, which was in the Irvine family for more than three quarters of a century. Mrs. Irvine undertook by her will to not only dispose of a large estate which she herself had inherited from her two brothers, the late I. Shelby Irvine and David W. Irvine, but also to change the will of her husband, William M. Irvine.

Perhaps the most interesting phase of the litigation in which this will of Mrs. Irvine's is involved is the litigated question as to whether David Irvine, of Kansas City, Missouri, one of the devisees of William M. Irvine, takes the valuable Irvinton farm near Richmond, or whether it goes to William Irvine Greenway, who was named as residuary legatee of her property by Mrs. Irvine.

In a recent opinion handed down by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, the court expressed the opinion that Greenway takes the farm, because the court was of the opinion that Section 4845 of the Kentucky statutes raises the presumption that where one having a discretionary power to choose one to take another's property, makes a general devise of her own property she is presumed by such general devise to include along with her gift of her own property the subject of the other's gift, although the other had already disposed of the same property according to his own will.

The result of the opinion of the Missouri court will be that no income will be available from the Kansas City property which Mrs. Irvine sought to set aside for maintenance of the hospital she proposed for the Kentucky Medical Association to establish at Irvinton, her home in Richmond. ## MISSING WORD PAGE IN TODAY'S PAPER

A large number of aspirants in the Missing Word Contest were correct in their solution last Thursday. The word was left out of the advertisement of W. F. Higgins Co., and was "all" between the words carry and sizes. They were advertising refrigerators and Mr. Murphy, the popular manager of the concern, stated that he certainly sold some refrigerators as the result of advertising carried in the Daily Register. The Missing Word Page is published again today, and the many readers who have kept up with the contest will find the word will not be quite so easy to find. However, it's there—just read every ad and you'll find it.

Franklin County School Board Files Suit for Higher Tax

The Franklin County Board of Education has filed suit in the Franklin circuit court for a writ of mandamus to compel the Franklin county fiscal court to make the school tax rate for 1922-23 at 50 cents on the $100 of property. The court on April 4 fixed the rate at 40 cents, in spite of a demand by the board of education for 50 cent rate.
